DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

For members of Constitutional convention, 13th Senatorial District.

EDWARD McCABE, of Marion.

WM. PRIEST, of Dallas.

THE TENNESSEE SENATORSHIP.

Great Excitement Over the Election.

The Contest Between Johnson and Brown.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 25.

There was great excitement on the reassembling of the General Assembly this morning. Paine, Speaker of the Senate, announced that unless the galleries and lobbies observed order, the Assembly would adjourn, and, if necessary, sit in some other city. The last ballot resulted, Johnson, 44; Bates 46; Ewing, 9; Sneed, 1. Governor Brown was then nominated amid cheers, and Bates was withdrawn. The confusion and excitement in the galleries was such that the President of the Assembly declared it adjourned. The general opinion is that the race is between Brown and Johnson, and the friends of both are sanguine.

SUMMARY OF DISPATCHES.

It is said by one of the most prominent republican Senators that during the present week a joint resolution will be introduced in Congress recognizing the Kellogg government, irrespective of Pinchback's admission as Senator from Louisiana, and that a military Governor for Louisiana or any other Southern State, as some have privately suggested, is out of the question. Gen. Sheridan will remain at New Orleans without limit as to time.

The House committee on Indian Affairs have before them the act of the Cherokee legislature authorizing the Cherokee legation to negotiate with the Government a loan of $500,000 to be refunded from the proceeds of lands west of the Arkansas river and south of Kansas. It is represented that this loan is necessary to the Cherokee people from the suffering the present winter, in consequence of the destruction of their crops by the chinch bugs and grasshoppers.

A special to the Louisville Courier-Journal says Wm. Rochester, a son of Col. W. H. Rochester, of Danville, a very prominent citizen of that part of Kentucky, was shot and killed in Lancaster, Ky., Saturday night, by W. S. Miller, the keeper of the Lancaster hotel. There are various rumors as to the origin of the quarrel, it being stated that young Rochester made a movement as if to draw a pistol when Miller shot him.

Hon. Harvey C. Latimer, representative in the Missouri legislature from Texas county, died at half past 12 o'clock Sunday afternoon from congestion caused by a severe cold taken while standing on the penitentiary walls during the late revolt. His age was fifty-five years. He was born at Cape Girardeau while his parents were moving from Kentucky to Missouri. He has resided in Texas county thirty years, during which time he was a preacher in good standing of the Methodist Episcopal church.

CONGRESSIONAL—SENATE.

At the expiration of the morning hour Mr. Johnson addressed the Senate on the Louisiana question. He arraigned the President as the cause of all these troubles in the South, and denied that the Ku-klux organization existed there.

Mr. Pease said Congress had taken no action in the matter, and left the President only to recognize Kellogg. He affirmed that no democrat had spoken a word against Wiltz, who, he said, was a revolutionist.

HOUSE.

On motion of Mr. Dawes, Irwin was discharged from arrest.

Mr. Hawley, of Illinois, moved to suspend the rules and make the bill for a canal connecting the waters of Lake Michigan with the Illinois, Mississippi and Rock rivers the special order for February 2nd. Agreed to—79 to 55.

The radicals undertook to pass resolutions imposing a gag on all the legislation of the session but failed at every trial. A motion by Mr. Cassa to prevent any dilatory motions from being made during the consideration of any bill or joint resolution brought out indignant protests from the democrats and a few republicans, among the latter Messrs. Kasson and Smith of Ohio. Rejected. Yeas, 150; nays, 98—not a two-thirds affirmative.

Among the republicans voting no were Buffington, Burchard, Burleigh, Foster, Hale, of Maine, Hale of N. Y., Kasson, Herriam, Phelps, Pierce, E. H. Roberts, Senor, Smith, of Ohio, Willard, of Vt., Willard, of Mich.

Mr. Butler, of Mass., moved to suspend the rules and take from the Speaker's table the Senate Civil Rights bill for consideration until final disposition thereof, and that no dilatory motion be allowed until such bill has been finally disposed of.

A dilatory motion was immediately resorted to by the democrats to prevent a vote.

The direct vote on the motion was yeas 147; nays 93. Not a two-thirds affirmative, so the motion was defeated.

The republicans voting no were Butler, of Tenn., Harrison, Hyde, Laffin, Lowndes, Maynard, Senor, Sheets Sloan, Smith, of Va., Standard, Strait and Thomburg. Adjourned.

THE BOSTON MINISTERS.

A telegram stated that the Boston Methodist ministers at their regular weekly meeting last week, had passed resolutions endorsing Grant and Sheridan, but the full report of the meeting is necessary to understand the enthusiasm and spirit in which they did it. To give our readers some idea of these, we copy from the Boston Herald of the 18th:

At the regular weekly meeting of the Methodist preachers of Boston and vicinity, held at Wesleyan Hall this forenoon the recent difficulties in Louisiana were discussed at considerable length. Bishop Bowman gave an account of what he knew about the treatment of colored people in Louisiana, narrating a number of instances in which they had been shamefully abused and deprived of life even. By invitation Rev. B. I. Ives of New York addressed the meeting and his speech was of the most radical kind. He declared there is altogether too much toadyism on the part of northern people in their treatment of the south. He said we are undertaking now to

down south, when nothing but strychnine and cannon ought to be used. He rather agreed with Phil Sheridan's declaration during the war, "that if he had owned hell and Texas he would lease out Texas and live in the other place." Mr. Ives administered a castigation to the church, declaring that there is not a paper in the Methodist church that dares discuss the civil rights bill and ask that it be enforced. He said he believed the meanest rascals in the south are in the Methodist church south. He declared himself a radical of the strongest kind, and he said he believed

THE MORE HE HATED THE REBELS OF THE SOUTH THE MORE HE LOVED GOD.

He declared he believed that the spirit now rampant in the south has got to be crushed out by another war, and he longed for the appearance of some colored man able to become a leader among his people, wielding the sword and torch. He said the bishops ought to come out publicly and declare the whole truth about the treatment of the colored people in the south, but he didn't believe they would. If they did, he knew they couldn't return to the south, for if they did they would be hung; but he intimated that it was no worse to hang a bishop than a minister.

MINISTER, but he suggested if it was done it might wake up the people quicker than anything else. He thought the bishops were too tender hearted and they reminded him of the man who wanted to cut off the dog's tail, but he was too tender hearted to cut it off where it ought to be, so he cut it off an inch at a time. The speech of Mr. Ives was received with frequent demonstrations of approval, some of his most radical utterances exciting considerable applause, mingled with laughter.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR LEGISLATORS.

At a large and earnest meeting of the tax-paying citizens of Macon county, held at the town of Bevier, a petition was drawn up to the General Assembly, after much temperate, forcible, and pertinent discussion had been had, as follows:

"To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Missouri: We, the undersigned, tax-payers of Macon county, State of Missouri, wishing to obtain relief from the heavy burden of taxation now pressing upon us, and to secure that retrenchment and reform in county affairs which is so much needed, do very respectfully petition your honorable body, by special act, to grant said relief in the following particulars:

That the public school law be so amended that no sub-district shall levy a tax for more than a four months' school, without the unanimous consent of the tax-payers of said sub-district, expressed at an election held for that purpose.

That the salary of the County Clerk be reduced to $1,200 per annum.

That the standing jury in all cases be abolished.

That the revenue law be so amended that when a tax-payer gives the assessor the value of a piece of property for a part of which he is yet in debt, that the indebtedness be deducted from the value of said property.

That the Recorder be allowed 50 cents for recording all quit-claim deeds; and $1 for all trust and warranty deeds, including certificates.

That the fees of the clerk of the Circuit court be reduced 33 1/3 per cent.

That the jurisdiction of the Justice court be extended to $150 on a plain note of hand, $300 on an open account, and $100 on damages.

Resolved, That the tax-payers of Macon county be cordially invited to co-operate with us in our efforts to secure that so much needed reform in our county affairs.

A NOBLE ACT.

[From the Lexington Intelligencer.]

A friend who is a citizen of Marshal, in the neighboring county of Saline, relates a story of the generous action of a young gentleman of that town, which does one good to listen to. In our last paper we announced the death of Mr. Edward G. Garnet, the recently elected circuit clerk of that county, and we have since learned that his wife died the same week from the same disease, pneumonia. Mr. Garnet, though at one time wealthy, was poor at the time of his death, and left a family dependent upon his eldest son for a support. When the vacancy in Mr. Garnet's office occurred by reason of his death Mr. John Bryant—a young man in every way qualified for the position—sought and obtained of the governor the appointment to that vacant office. After the appointment was made, Mr. Bryant learned that young Garnet had also been an applicant for the place, when he immediately gave his resignation in to the governor's hands and joined in the request to have Mr. Garnet appointed, which was done. Mr. Bryant is now a deputy in office he so generously assisted in conferring on another.
